Missionary Movement Discussed at Supper to Council of Diocese.

FIELD FOR MEN OF CHURCH

Bishop Coadjutor Will Be Elected at To-Day's Meeting of Council.

"The missionary cause is the very heart of Christianity, and any preacher who is not in sympathy with it will never solve the mission of God. The time has passed when a minister can be satisfied with a well organized woman's guild, while his church is filled with men, burning to be in living touch with the great Laymen's Missionary Movement."

These statements were made last night in the Masonic Temple by Rev. W. D. Smith, D. D., of Winchester, Va., when he discussed the "Extension of the Laymen's Missionary Movement Through the Episcopate" at the supper given by the laity of the Episcopal Church of Richmond in honor of the members of the Diocesan Council, who will meet here this morning. The meeting which followed the feast lasted for more than three hours, and was participated in by more than 100 members of the clergy and laity of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist Churches, who had been invited to join the Episcopalians in adding impetus to the work in missions.

Resolution by Laymen.
The address of Dr. Smith was brief but to the point. He declared that the clergy is not doing all of the good in behalf of the missions. He said that this work had been revolutionized by the laity. He believed the sentiment of the laymen, however, to be a desire to have the aid of the ministry, and felt that they were a necessary part to the success of the movement.

Right Rev. Robert A. Gibson, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of Virginia, was the first speaker introduced by Oliver A. Sands, who presided. Bishop Gibson welcomed the visitors to Richmond. Among other things, he said: "Inspiration has come among the laymen—come from the spirit of the age. When the laymen of Richmond feel that they have an inspiration they will seek a field to impart it. The highest act of citizenship is to give to others that you have found to be divine."

"No son of a Virginia clergyman was ever born who does not recognize that he is simply handing down traditions from his ancestors when he enters the pulpit for the first time. The establishment of more and better missions. The connection with the past makes the present strong. The fact of the age in feeling concerning missions proves its permanency. It is a movement which should be extended and solidified, for it has accomplished great good."

Church for Men.
"I grieve to hear it said that the church is an institution for women and children, and not for strong men; it is the greatest of great things for men. The movement for which this great assembly of men is working must be carried into all of our parishes by men. No man can say how this is to be done. The fact that a parish is urban makes it easier. The fact that a parish is rural makes it more difficult. But it must be done in proportion. Strong men make strong parishes; strong parishes make strong dioceses, and strong dioceses make a vigorous and powerful religion."

Work of Mission Board.
William P. Cochran, of Baltimore, who has devoted much time and interest to the Laymen's Missionary Movement, spoke for some time. He referred mainly to various meetings held recently by men in the East and especially to the last session of the National Board of Missions.

He said that without the men of the church the promotion of the work was almost fruitless, but that the vestry and clergy held the key to the situation.

In the absence of Rev. W. J. Willingham, D. D., secretary of the Baptist Board of Foreign Missions, Rev. George W. McDaniel, pastor of the First Baptist Church, spoke for his denomination in its participation in the work in the missionary field. He gave figures concerning this. Similar addresses of three minutes each were made by Rev. D. Clay Lilly, D. D., representing the Presbyterians, and Rev. J. N. Latham, D. D., pastor of Centenary Methodist Church.

Laymen Have Say.

MILD, GENTLE LAXATIVE FOR WOMEN GIVEN FREE

So many of the ills of women are due to habitual constipation, probably because of their false modesty on the subject, that their attention cannot be too strongly called to the importance of keeping the bowels open. It is always important to do that, regardless of the sex, but it is especially important in women.

From the time the girl begins to menstruate until menstruation ceases she has always vastly better prospects of coming through healthy if she watches her bowel movements. If you find yourself constipated, with bad humors, nervousness, headache, belching gas and other symptoms of indigestion and constipation, take a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a favorite remedy of the world. You will find that you can do away with salts, strong cathartics, etc., which are entirely unsuited to woman's requirements.

Mrs. Katherine Haberstroh, of McKees Rocks, Pa., and Mrs. A. E. Herick, of Wheeler, Me., who was almost paralyzed in her stomach and bowels, are now cured by the use of this remedy. A free sample bottle can be obtained by addressing Dr. Caldwell, and after you are convinced of its merits buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy rests his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years, and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell Building, Monticello, Ill.

News of South Richmond

South Richmond Bureau.
The Times-Dispatch.

The murderous attack of a half crazy negro on a prominent young white woman of Chester Monday night, was repeated only by a unusual display of bravery on the part of the latter. The negro, Moses Jackson, had just been released from the State Hospital for Insane, and was taken into the employ of the young woman's family as a harmless character.

A search was set on foot for him immediately, but so far the chase has been without results. Constable Watts, of Oak Grove District, searched the country around Chester until 2 o'clock yesterday morning, and light, but his efforts have been unrewarded. The county constabulary are on the watch for him everywhere, and the city police have been asked to apprehend any one corresponding to the description of Jackson.

Better Health Conditions.
While the work of the Richmond Health Department in the Southside has been of unusual value since the consolidation, few have been able to realize the good this department has done the community. The spread of tary conditions in general have been attacked by the health officers of the city, and it is stated that the work in South Richmond has hardly been begun the department has much to show for what it has accomplished on the south side of the river.

A health officer who was making an inspection tour of Washington Ward yesterday stated to The Times-Dispatch reporter that the sanitary conditions in that section of the city were much improved. The desire of the department, he stated, was not so much the actual righting of these conditions as the education of the people to such a point that they will right the evil themselves.

One of the most dangerous and frequent unsanitary troubles in the Southside, the officer stated, is the number of old wells which the owners in spite of the most unhealthful surroundings. It is estimated that at least fifty of these old wells have been filled by the health officers and city water supply installed to remove the old unhealthy water source.

These wells form the most common source of infection and disease in the Southside, and are often subject to foul drainage. A few more of the hundreds of disease-repelling wells before many months. More than 100 new sewer connections have been put in by order of the department to replace the ancient and unsanitary dry closets in use at this time in the ward. The officer stated that the number of dry closets in use at this time in the ward was about 100, and that the department is placing by sewer connections, as many of the closets are old and in need of repair. He stated that the department will have to ask for an appropriation from the Council, and this it is determined to do in the coming year.

Negro Badly Wounded.
Becoming engaged in a dispute over some unknown question, Fred Coleman, colored, last night shot David Hilton, colored, in the fleshy part of his leg as the two negroes were standing on the corner of Sixteenth and Stockton Streets. Had Hilton not seen Coleman rush at him and turned to run, it is said, the thirty-two-calibre bullet would have perhaps inflicted a fatal wound. Hilton was rushed to his home and a physician summoned. Dr. Vaughan, who attended the wounded man, said that the wound was not serious, but that it would require a long time to result fully.

Officer Waymack, who is the night officer in charge of the Washington Ward police station, was apparently set out in pursuit of Coleman. He succeeded in rounding up the fugitive on the corner of Fifteenth and Decatur Streets within half an hour after the shot was fired. Coleman was taken to the station and held until morning, when he was given a hearing this morning before Justice Maurice in Police Court, Part 2.

Coleman was held last night in the police station that Hilton had attacked him and knocked him down before he drew his gun. The shot had been fired in self-defense, Hilton told a different version of the scrape.

Police Building Work.
With the completion of the brick work on the new police station and Police Court building of Washington Ward to-day, for which $100,000 was appropriated by the Council, but little remains to be done before the completed structure will be ready for occupation.

The present quarters of the police and the court have long been inadequate, and the announcement that the new station would be had with the greatest enthusiasm by the South Richmond police. By remodeling the old Manchester City Jail, which is regarded as an excellent example of jail construction, the city was able to give the department what it so badly needed for little cost. By having the jail, pen and Police Court, Part 2, all under the same cover the handling of prisoners is facilitated. There only remains the roof, the plaster and some woodwork before the building can be used, and it is thought that the department will enter its new quarters within the next fifteen days. The "pen," which will be installed in the corner of the new Police Court, will have a capacity of twenty, and will be sufficient for the needs of the Southside, probably for many years.

Ninety Days for Vagrancy.
"Buck" Williams, colored, a "Tall Red" negro, arrested Monday afternoon by Officer Moore, was sent up for ninety days yesterday morning in Police Court, Part 2, on the charge of vagrancy. Williams, who was in rags and half starved, was at first thought to be the escaped Kerner, who has succeeded in eluding the police since his sensational departure from the Chesterfield county jail last Sunday morning, but investigation proved this a mistake.

James McElroy was given ninety days yesterday morning by Justice Maurice on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. No sign has been seen or no trace discovered of the two road convicts who escaped from Camp No. 2 last Friday, but the county officer and city guards are pressing the pursuit with all vigilance, and hope of eventual capture has not been abandoned.

Will Honor Lodge Dead.
In order that a memorial day may be set aside for the honoring of the dead of the cemetery committee of one has been appointed to hold a service in South Richmond and Swansboro, and this joint committee will meet to-night at 8 o'clock in Odd-Fellows' Hall, corner of Eighth and Hull Streets.

Memorial services of a suitable nature will be planned by this committee, and the result reported to the respective lodges. Some of the orders already have their own memorial days, but this joint occasion is expected to take their place.

Personal and General.
A. J. Sheffield, a sawmill proprietor of Petersburg, was arrested yesterday on the Petersburg car by Constable Watts, of the Oak Grove District, and taken before Magistrate L. W. Cheatham. The man was in an intoxicated state, and when searched was found to have a loaded revolver and a pint of whiskey. As he could offer no bail he was remanded to the City Jail, whence he will be brought before Magistrate Cheatham to-day for trial.

Dr. Hammond Fisher, of 112 East Ninth Street, is confined to his home with a severe attack of pneumonia.
